

Key Quotations

Chapter One: Story of the Door

a man of rugged countenance that was never lighted by a smile

- Mr Utterson was a serious looking man

He was austere with himself

- Utterson was strict about how he spent his money

I incline to Cain's heresy

- Utterson chooses to ignore other people's faults the shop fronts stood along that thoroughfare with an air of invitation, like rows of smiling saleswomen

- The street looks positive and welcoming a certain sinister block of building thrust forward its gable

- One particular building stood out

It wasn't like a man; it was some damned juggernaut

- The man was a massive, immovable force the man trampled calmly over the child's body and left her screaming on the ground

- Hyde attacks a young girl

So ugly that it brought out the sweat on me like running.

- Utterson had a strong, physical reaction to the man

The person that drew the cheque is the very pink of the proprieties

- The cheque was written by someone known for their good behaviour (i.e. Jekyll!) something down-right detestable

- Utterson immediately finds the man hateful to look at

He gives a strong feeling of deformity

- Utterson felt he looked deformed

Chapter Two: Search for Mr. Hyde

This was a hearty healthy dapper red-faced gentleman

- Dr. Lanyon

Henry Jekyll became too fanciful for me. He began to go wrong

- The falling out that human Juggernaut trod the child down

- Utterson's nightmare violence through wider labyrinths of lamplighted city

- Utterson's nightmare city

If he be Mr. Hyde he had thought I shall be Mr. Seek

- Utterson's plan

Mr. Hyde shrank back with a hissing intake of the breath.

- Hyde's reaction

Mr. Hyde was pale and dwarfish

- Hyde's appearance murderous mixture

- A recipe for Hyde

Satan's signature

- The devil

He was wild when he was young

- Jekyll's youth

Chapter Three: Dr. Jekyll was quite at ease

Where Utterson was liked he was liked well

- Opinion of Utterson

a large well-made smooth-faced man of fifty

- Jekyll's appearance

an ignorant blatant pedant

- Jekyll describing Lanyon

there came a blackness about his eyes

- Jekyll's eyes

the moment I choose I can be rid of Mr. Hyde

- Jekyll in denial

I beg of you to let it sleep

- Jekyll asking to drop it

I only ask you to help him for my sake

- Utterson, help Hyde

Chapter Four: The Carew Murder Case

London was startled by a crime of singular ferocity

- London shocked brilliantly lit by the full moon

- A bright night

an aged beautiful gentleman with white hair

- Sir Danvers Carew

he broke out in a great flame of anger

- fiery temper

with ape-like fury he was trampling his victim under foot

- Animalistic anger

the bones were audibly shattered and the body jumped

- broken body

his eye lighted up with professional ambition

- Figure of justice displaying greed

Particularly small and particularly wicked-looking

- maid describing Hyde

A great chocolate-coloured pall lowered over heaven

- London Smog

a haggard shaft of daylight

- The failing light like a district of some city in a nightmare.

- simile about London

She had an evil face smoothed by hypocrisy

- Hyde's maid

the haunting sense of unexpressed deformity

- Hyde Uncanny

Chapter Five: Incident of the Letter

the tables laden with chemical apparatus

- A full table

the floor strewn with crates and littered with packing straw

- A messy floor

but held out a cold hand and bade him welcome in a changed voice

- Jekyll's welcome

I swear to God I will never set eyes on him again

- Jekyll's oath

he did not like his friend's feverish manner

- Jekyll's fever

The fog still slept on the wing above the drowned city

- fog metaphor

the two hands are in many points identical

- Handwriting

And his blood ran cold in his veins

- Utterson's fear

Chapter Six: Incident of Dr. Lanyon

tales came out of the man's cruelty at once so callous and violent

- Hyde's cruelty

he was simply blotted out

- Hyde's disappearance

Now that that evil influence had been withdrawn a new life began for Dr. Jekyll

- Jekyll's charity

his death-warrant written legibly upon his face

- Lanyon's face

The rosy man had grown pale; his flesh had fallen away

- Lanyon's complexion deep-seated terror of the mind

- Lanyon's fear

Lanyon declared himself a doomed man

- Lanyon's declaration

[his]face changed and he held up a trembling hand

- Describing Dr Lanyon

one whom I regard as dead

- Lanyon about Jekyll

If I am the chief of sinners, I am the chief of sufferers also

- Jekyll's suffering

Chapter Seven: Incident at the Window full of premature twilight

- the darkness

like some disconsolate prisoner

- simile for Jekyll the smile was struck out of his face

- Jekyll's mood change an expression of such abject terror and despair as froze the very blood

- blood goes cold

They were both pale and there was an answering horror in their eyes

- Utterton & Enfield

Chapter Eight: The Last Night

It was a wild cold seasonable night of March

- pathetic fallacy

flecked the blood into the face

- gothic blush

a crushing anticipation of calamity

- impending doom

his face was white and his voice when he spoke harsh and broken

- Poole's appearance

stood huddled together like a flock of sheep

- simile servants

It seems much changed replied the lawyer very pale

- the voice

"For God's sake" he added find me some of the old

- plea for chemicals

the hair stood upon my head like quills

- Poole porcupine

why did he cry out like a rat

- animal scream

maladies that both torture and deform the sufferer

- deadly disease

that masked thing like a monkey jumped from among the chemicals

- Darwin fear of science it went down my spine like ice

- spine tingling

Weeping like a woman or a lost soul

- someone crying

a man sorely contorted and still twitching

- Hyde/Jekyll dying

Chapter Nine: Dr. Lanyon's Narrative

The contents increased my wonder

- letter contents

Lanyon my life my honour my reason are all at your mercy

- Jekyll's guilt trip

my heart sinks and my hand trembles

- Jekyll shaking double occurring perhaps six times

- potion failing odd subjective disturbance caused by his neighbourhood

- Hyde's uncanny presence a marked sinking of the pulse

- Lanyon's self-diagnosis something seizing surprising and revolting

- three uncanny verbs

a certain icy pang along my blood

- Lanyon's chills

I could hear his teeth grate with the convulsive action of his jaws

- Hyde's teeth

He turned a dreadful smile to me

- Hyde's smile

a prodigy to stagger the unbelief of Satan

- Hyde's warning

his face became suddenly black and the features seemed to melt and alter

- The transformation

my mind submerged in terror

- Lanyon's reaction

My life is shaken to its roots

- Lanyon's life

Chapter Ten: Dr. Jekyll's Full Statement of the Case

that man is not truly one but truly two

- Duality

a grinding in the bones deadly nausea and a horror of the spirit

- the transformation

more wicked, tenfold more wicked

- Wicked

Edward Hyde alone in the ranks of mankind was pure evil

- Hyde alone

my new power tempted me until I fell in slavery

- Jekyll addicted

assume like a thick cloak that of Edward Hyde

- Hyde cloak simile

Edward Hyde would pass away like the stain of breath upon a mirror

- Hyde mirror breath simile

Hyde alone that was guilty

- Hyde's guilt

my blood was changed into something exquisitely thin and icy

- Jekyll's blood

the balance of my nature might be permanently overthrown

- balance and duality

My devil had been long caged he came out roaring

- Hyde set free metaphor a sick child may break a plaything

- Danvers Carew murder

Instantly the spirit of hell awoke in me and raged

- Hyde's rage

hunted houseless a known murderer thrall to the gallows.

- on the run alliteration